- 1432 ★/★★★ Military Stamps. 1914-44 World War I and WWII issues, collection of 2,500+ in glassines or small cards and on what appears to have been an extensive exhibit, also 77 covers or stationery cards, various units, including Aircraft Battalions, Aircraft spotters and Air Defense, Cavalry Brigades, Cyclists, Food Supply, Frontier Troops, Medical units, Panzer detachments, Territorial Troops, etc., some perf. and souvenir sheets, sheetlets of six and eight, also with pages from a catalogue issued for these labels. (Known in Switzerland as "soldier's stamps", they were issued to the troops for free during WWI. This was presumably to help keep them in touch with family and friends back home, while they were serving at the frontiers. Each unit had its own design. More were printed during WWII, some in large quantities, others only 600 or less) (web photo)..... 2,500.00
- 1433 ★P田 Revenue Stamps. 1891-1976 Neuchatel, mostly Administrative fee stamps ("Emolument Administratif"), extensive collection with used and unused singles, plus 40+ sheets of 25, including imperforate printer's trials in various colors, administrative fee tax stamps mounted in special booklets headed "Timbres-Impot" (notation translated from French "this stamp book must be presented at the municipal cash desk, at the latest July 31, 1974 to benefit from a 2% discount"). The stamps and proofs are extensively described on display pages, v.f. and rare group of Neuchatel revenues (obtained personally by the collector from the Cantonal officials on his trips to the region); some of the proofs and sheets may be unique as any remainders have long ago been incinerated (web photo)..... 5,000.00

ITALIAN STATES

- 1606 ☒ 1792-1871 the John Lievsay collection of Postal History of Italy, 175+ FLs from the French Revolution to the Unified Kingdom, showing Postal and Franchise markings through the 80 turbulent years leading to the Unification of Italy. There were more than 150 (!) local and regional changes of government; 110 are included here, franchise mail often proving the change and the continuity of mail service. The involvement of France is shown throughout, with provinces of Savoy and Nice, French expansion of post offices in the Northern Departments Conquis (88-144); two expeditions to protect the Pope; and military Campaigns against Austria. Much of the material can be dated only by the internal content. The collection starts with Armies of the 1st French Republic across the border ("Armee D'Italie", Nice and "L'Armee des Alpes", 1796 FL addressed to General Berthier, chief of staff). Annexed territory is organized into Departments by the French and assigned a number - "the Department Conquis". Included are FLs "85 Nice", "85 Monaco". French Occupy Duchy of Modena, establish Cisalpine Confederation, Lombardy occupied and Venetia invaded, good showing of 1798 Revolutionary Roman Republic, Pope driven out and Papal Rule restored (1800-1809), Austrian markings (Romagna, Lucca and Modena), "Bleeding Heart" postmarks of Florence, French Offices in Northern Italy, Kingdom of Two Sicilies, 1802 Republic Post Office in Rome, Napoleonic Kingdom of Italy markings, Principality of Lucca and Palomino, Tuscany ceded by Spanish back to France, various departmental Franchise markings, Papal markings, Austrian occupation of Savoy and Lucca, Restoration Italy, Genoa added to Sardinia, additional markings "Monaco", "Menton", provisional government established in Romagna, Austrian Intervention, various Duchies, First War of Independence. Few pieces outside the French area bear rate markings, but this not a rate study. In addition, there is only a representative showing of the "Risorgimento", with the issues of Provisional Government and expanded use of Sardinian stamps 1851-1871, as well as 1855 FL showing "Posta Mil. Sardinia" (coordinating post office in Constantinople, this is the scarcest Sardinian marking during the Crimean War), also 1859 special red "Bureau Special de L'empereur" on cover to Versailles, plus many others. An impressive collection formed by a well known philatelist and historian 7,500.00

More than 4,600 combatant prisoners of war (POWs) were interned in temporary camps in cities throughout Japan. In 1915, after it became clear that the war would last longer than originally expected, Japanese military authorities constructed permanent POW camps to make prisoners' living conditions more tolerable. Though strictly controlled by the military authorities, the prisoners were treated as fellow soldiers in accordance with the Hague Convention of 1907. Despite the fact that the POW camps were encircled by barbed wire, prisoners were not kept isolated from the surrounding society. Ultimately eighty-seven prisoners died in captivity)* 5,000.00

Cherrystone Opens London Office

We are pleased to announce that we have recently opened an office located steps from the Royal Philatelic Society at 60 Cannon Street in London and have named Anthony Bard, FPRSL, as our new European representative.

With industry low commission rates and the dollar at near generational highs against both the Pound and Euro, now is a great time to consign your philatelic property to Cherrystone. Our frequently held auctions, minimal customs regulations and ability to settle in the currency of your choice makes consigning with Cherrystone a seamless experience. In addition to being able to visit our clients within the United States, Tony and our other representatives are happy to travel to your home or office, both in the U.K. and Europe, for all suitable properties.

Contact Tony today to schedule an appointment.
